Following the completion of the Tsawwassen treaty Mr. Koepke was assigned the 'Namgis First Nation file in the Alert Bay area of northern Vancouver Island.

Tracy-Anne McPhee's term as Ombudsman/Information & Privacy Commissioner ends on April 7, 2012.

The Ombudsman Act requires that the Ombudsman be appointed by the Commissioner in Executive Council on receipt of the recommendation of the Legislative Assembly made by at least two-thirds of the members of the Legislative Assembly. It is expected that the required motion will be debated during the 2012 Spring Sitting. The Ombudsman is appointed to a five-year term and may be reappointed.

The all-party subcommittee created by the Members' Services Board consists of Hon. Doug Graham, Jan Stick and Sandy Silver. This subcommittee was given responsibility for recruiting a nominee to be placed before the Assembly for its consideration. It placed advertisements inviting applications in local newspapers on February 1 and 3. A total of 16 applications were received. Following short listing, the subcommittee conducted interviews on March 14, 2012.

The Ombudsman is an independent officer of the Legislative Assembly who, in accordance with the provisions of the Ombudsman Act, reviews administrative directions of the Government of Yukon by investigating complaints against departments, agencies, boards and commissions and submitting reports or taking other appropriate action in response to those complaints. The Ombudsman also serves as the Yukon's Information and Privacy Commissioner and, as such, is charged with fulfilling the duties of that position in accordance with the provisions of the Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act. These duties include conducting reviews into decisions respecting access to records of departments and agencies of the Government of Yukon.
